It is my honor to be newly elected to serve as the president of the Virginia State Police Association, and I want to begin our fall fundraising campaign with a sincere thank you to our donors. Thank you for your past support. Thank you for believing that what we do is important and necessary to keep our Commonwealth of Virginia safe. I speak for every active and retired Virginia State Trooper and Special Agent in saying how appreciative we are.

It's unfortunate that the entire law enforcement community has been caught up in the political changes that have defined our society over the last few years. Though we can't do anything about supply shortages or what teachers are required to teach our children and grandchildren, we can certainly do our part as law enforcement officers in making our highways and communities safer for Virginia families.

For example, Mr. Smith, by sending you this letter, we can ask for your financial support and use it to persuade young people to consider careers in law enforcement. We can use your support to lobby our state government to provide more resources to strengthen our Virginia Troopers and Special Agents. We can use it to keep our most trained and most effective officers serving and protecting our communities instead of seeking other employment. And we can let you know about all the good, positive things we do, so that you can let others know.

We feel blessed to have you on our side. If you can contribute something this fall, we will send you our new 2023 Support Stickers, well in advance of the coming year. Please place your window sticker on the rear window, driver's side, where our troopers can see they have your support. And don't forget to review our enclosed Trooper Talk newsletter for stories you may not see in the main stream media.

We have faith the world will eventually right itself and a semblance of normality and common sense will return. But it can't happen without us working together to make it happen.

God bless you and keep you and your family safe this holiday season.

Sincerely,

Tim Confroy, President
Virginia State Police Association
